Welcome to West Palm Beach!

On behalf of CCI Media, Woodworking Network, FDMC magazine, and Closets & Organized Storage magazine, I want to welcome you to what we think is one of the best regional opportunities to better your business. Wood Pro Expo Florida and the Closets Conference & Expo offer unparalleled possibilities for advancing your business through networking, learning, and discovering new efficiencies in technology, techniques, and tools.

I urge you to study the jam-packed schedule closely so you can take advantage of the impressive field of resources in both Closets and Wood Pro education tracks. Let's take it a day at a time.

Tuesday the emphasis is on learning and networking with a full slate of conference opportunities. The networking starts right away with a breakfast for all conference attendees, sponsored by Federated Insurance & Klingspor Abrasives. What a great opportunity to meet colleagues and power up for the day ahead!

The opening keynote is quite literally a Major League event with baseball standout Dale Murphy talking about "Big League Leadership for Business Owners: Lessons from the Diamond to the Shop Floor." Currently a managing director with Georgia Oak Partners, Murphy shares tips from his 20-year award-winning baseball career, showing how owners can build winning teams, create resilient cultures, and lead with clarity during times of change.

The morning then splits into the Wood Pro conference track, sponsored by AWI and the Closets conference track, sponsored by ACSP. Sessions include a pricing workshop focused on improving profitability, and a presentation on how connected digital workflows are transforming closet design, sales, and production. Late morning sessions continue with topics such as business continuity planning and a forward-looking discussion on trends in closets, cabinetry, and home organization.

After a networking lunch, the afternoon emphasizes hands-on learning and operational strategies. In the Wood Pro track, attendees participate in an interactive lean manufacturing workshop, while the Closets track explores CNC optimization and automation. A panel discussion on CNC adoption follows, covering software, tooling, and equipment decisions.

Following a short networking break, we'll dive into more than an hour of face-to-face roundtables in both the Closets and Wood Pro tracks to allow participants to further discuss and learn from each other about the topics presented in the conference. The day concludes with a virtual plant tour of Quest Engineering and opening day wraps up with an evening welcome reception, co-sponsored by ACSP, designed for continued networking in a relaxed setting.

Wednesday, the action moves to the show floor as the Expo opens at 10 a.m. But before that, don't overlook the Veneer Grading Seminar sponsored by Columbia Forest Products and Veneer Tech. Greg Simon from Veneer Tech and Fred Mitchell from Columbia Forest Products help you learn how to evaluate veneer grades, identify high-quality materials, and make confident, informed selections for your next project.

At 11 a.m., Michaelle Bradford will host a keynote report with a panel of experts on Closets 2026 State of the Industry – Economics, Challenges & Opportunities.

During the day, there will be closet design and installation clinics, as well as business management workshops. At 4:30 p.m., I'll host a live Woodworking Network Podcast with a surprise guest.

Capping the day off is the Top Shelf Design Awards Reception sponsored by Rev-A-Shelf from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. But don't stop there because the special Closets & Cocktails: Miami Nights after hours event goes from 8:30 p.m. to midnight.

Thursday the action continues. Besides the Expo Hall being open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The Veneer Grading Seminar is on from 9 a.m. to 1:15 p.m., and at 10 a.m., I'll host a keynote panel focused on Success in Architectural Woodwork. Our friends at AWI have gathered some great experts to discuss how woodworking businesses can capitalize and succeed with complex architectural projects such as restaurants, hospitals, hospitality facilities, and educational institutions.

In the Closets track, there will be an ACSP Designer Exchange from 11-1 p.m., followed by Design Talks and a Garage Design Clinic. There will be a networking reception from 1-2 p.m., and on the live stage at 1:30 p.m. check out a live designer interview with Michaelle Bradford.

Wow! That's a lot to take in. Don't forget to sign up for the Whova show app (see page 3) to keep track of everything going on and to enhance your networking experience.
